“We are honoured to be chosen once again as the filming venue for another stellar production, and even more privileged that My Lucky Star is premiering at our theatres. This marks the fifth movie premiere at the MasterCard Theatres and we hope to keep this momentum going by bringing more international movies of similar calibre from the Americas, Europe and around the world, to this part of Asia,” said Mr. George Tanasijevich, President and Chief Executive Officer of Marina Bay Sands.

Going nowhere in love and stuck as a lowly travel agent, Sophie (played by Zhang) finds escape in her own comic book creations. Winning a trip to Singapore catapults her life in a new direction, as she meets the man of her dreams – David (played by Wang) – the handsome super-spy from her own comics.

Apart from Singapore, My Lucky Star crew also filmed at other major cities, from Sophie’s stomping grounds in Beijing, to outback fishing villages of Hong Kong, and the gondolas of The Venetian Macao’s canals in Macao.

The MasterCard Theatres at Marina Bay Sands is becoming the destination of choice for international gala premieres in Singapore. My Lucky Star Gala Premiere will join in the rungs of four other international gala premieres that have been held at the MasterCard Theatres at Marina Bay Sands this year— including “The Grandmaster” held in January, Japanese movie “The After-Dinner Mysteries (Nazotoki wa Dinner no Ato de)” and homegrown director Anthony Chen’s “Ilo Ilo”, which won the coveted Camera d’Or award for best feature film at the Cannes Festival and Korean blockbuster “Cold Eyes” which premiered less than a week ago.

My Lucky Star will officially launch in Singapore cinemas on 19 September.
