10TH ANNIVERSARY SCREENING OF GONE SHOPPING

1 - 8 Oct

Clara is a trophy wife 'tai tai' who one day forgets to take her medication and ends up lingering on for days in the welcoming walls of her favourite space - shopping centres. There she crosses paths with a childhood flame, a latchkey kid and a cosplaying young man, and realises that she is far from alone as a true creature of the mall. Gone Shopping is a tale of love, loss and liberation in the only heart Singapore has ever known.

Released to critical acclaim in 2007, Gone Shopping is the first-full length directorial debut of female director Wee Li Lin. Derek Elley from Variety described the film as a 'quietly ironic feature debut, which goes to the empty heart of the Lion State's culture more effectively than many artier pics repping the island on the fest circuit.'

This 10th anniversary screening of Gone Shopping is co-presented by ArtScience Museum and Singapore International Film Festival.

Free admission.
